

I do not want the FCC to allow cell phone usage during flight of any aircraft. There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments. Cell Phone usage by terrorists to coordinate a plan of action would be more effective. The NPRM would leave it up to flight attendants to police the use of cell phones onboard the aircraft, thereby, compromising our ability to maintain a safe, secure cabin environment and to conduct emergency evacuations. Finally, it would make an already tense cabin environment even more stressful, when you add cell phone usage, irresponsible passengers and alcohol to the mix.

Thank you,
Donald F. Wilson
Flight Attendant
USAirways